

Nev. recreational pot sales reach $41M in March

By Wade Tyler Millward, Las Vegas Review-Journal

Move over sagebrush, Nevada may have a new state flower.

Recreational marijuana sales topped $41 million in March, the largest since legal sales began statewide in July.

That translates into $7.09 million in tax revenue in March from marijuana, according to a state Department of Taxation release Wednesday.

Read the whole story