

Playwriting competition seeks submissions

If you have a story you want to share on stage, then enter WordWave's annual one-act playwriting competition.

Three winners will be celebrated on Oct. 20, with winners receiving a $500 cash prize and a two-night stay in South Lake Tahoe to see their work directed and produced as a staged reading at the historic Valhalla Boathouse Theatre.

Manuscripts must have a running time of no more than 60 minutes and be written within the last five years. Writers may enter multiple works. There is a $25 submission fee per manuscript.

Applications are available online.
