Squaw to host 3-day music-beer fest

WinterWonderGrass is a boutique winter music and craft beer festival featuring more than 15 bands and 12 California breweries over three days.

Headliners of the March 20-22 festival at Squaw Valley include Trampled by Turtles, Greensky Bluegrass, The Infamous Stringdusters and Elephant Revival as well as bluegrass legend Sam Bush. California favorites Nicki Bluhm and the Gramblers, Dead Winter Carpenters, The California Honey Drops and Brothers Comatose will also be performing. Additional artists include Fruition, Scott Law, Head for the Hills, Front Country, T-Sisters and The Dustbowl Revival.

California craft breweries will be pouring their signature brews from 2:30-5:30pm each day.

The Rex Foundation will be hosting a charity ski race at Squaw Valley during the WinterWonderGrass weekend.

WinterWonderGrass Festival originated in the Vail Valley in 2012.

For the full line-up and more information, go online.