Then and now: Stateline – a honeymoon destination

This is a picture of my dad at Stateline in 1953. My mom took the photo. They were on their honeymoon. They stayed at Lakeland Village.

If you look under the sign my dad is leaning on, you can see the Wagon Wheel Saloon and restaurant signs. That's where Harveys is now.

Across the street is Sahati's and the Nevada Club which became Harrah's.

Placer County cracking down on underage drinking

The Placer County Sheriff's Office recently received a grant from the state Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control for 2012-13.

The $99,760 grant will be used to combat underage drinking and alcohol sales to minors countywide. The grant will also assist the sheriff's office in providing awareness and training in alcohol-related crimes and their impact for school staff, parents, students and the community.

Throughout the year, the sheriff's office will aggressively target problematic ABC licensed establishments that sell alcoholic beverages to minors and obviously intoxicated adult patrons. Minor-decoy and shoulder-tap operations will also be conducted countywide to minimize alcohol access to minors.

Deputies and police officers will also identify problematic areas and businesses where alcohol use is causing problems. They will inspect operations at those locations and at randomly selected establishments to ensure licensees are operating within the standards required by ABC.

Two training sessions will also be conducted for businesses that possess alcohol licenses. These sessions will provide a review of the rules and regulations governing the service of alcohol.

Agencies who will participate along with the sheriff's office in the grant are Auburn, Lincoln, Rocklin, and Roseville police departments.

Rotarians give back to South Shore community

BlueGo riders won't have to pay on select routes

In an attempt to keep Tahoe's air pristine and relieve congestion, some of the South Shore public buses will be free to ride for the three-day weekend and Sept. 8-9.

BlueGo routes 50 and 53 will be free.

The Tahoe Transportation District plans to designate as many as 88 Spare the Air days in the next two years.

"Spare the Air days will coincide with those times of year when visitation and traffic congestion is at its highest, such as long holiday weekends, the week between Christmas and New Year's Eve and Independence Day," Curtis Garner, TTD transit manager, said in a press release.

Information about the South Y to Stateline routes are available online.

Regular fares on all routes are $2 one way. For more information or to request a Rider's Guide, call (530) 541.7149 or email info@bluego.org.

"The Hunger Games" will be shown for free at the South Lake Tahoe branch library on Sept. 22 at 1pm.

The library is at 1000 Rufus Allen Blvd.

Nevada increasing patrols for holiday weekend

During the Labor Day weekend, from Aug. 31 through Sept. 3, deputies of the Douglas County and Lyon County sheriff's offices will be conducting increased traffic enforcement patrols on various highways and roadways within the two counties.

The increased patrols will specifically target drivers operating motor vehicles while under the influence of alcohol or intoxicating drugs.

National traffic studies have shown that these types of targeted patrols provide an increased risk of detection of violators, thereby reducing the number of drivers willing to risk committing these violations.

This enforcement detail is partially paid for by a grant from the State of Nevada, Department of Public Safety, Office of Traffic Safety.
