

Sierra Club and wilderness areas

Bob Anderson with the Tahoe Area Sierra Club speaks Feb. 20 about wilderness areas.

Driving on the East Shore

Another beautiful day in Lake Tahoe. This is a short view of driving on Highway 28 on the East Shore on Feb. 17.

One Billion Rising South Lake

Tahoe

On Feb. 14, 2013, South Lake Tahoe was part of worldwide movement called One Billion Rising. One Billion Rising began as a call to action based on the staggering statistic that 1 in 3 women on the planet will be beaten or raped during her lifetime. With the world population at 7 billion, this adds up to more than 1 billion women and girls.

Video is courtesy of Tahoe Production House.

Meteorite in the Bay Area

On a day that had a lot of people talking about meteorites and asteroids, a fireball of some sort was seen Feb. 16 streaking across the Bay Area skies.

<http://youtu.be/9Al219ksPDo>

Back bowls of Vail

Blue Sky Basin at Vail offers incredible views. The bowls of Vail stretch for 7 miles.

Barton cardiology lecture

Dr. David Young with Barton Cardiology talks about apnea and heart issues on Feb. 6 at Lake Tahoe Community College.

Beaver Creek Food + Wine Weekend

Chef Alex Seidel talks about one of the courses he made for the Jan. 25 gourmet lunch at the Beaver Creek Food + Wine Festival.

SnowGlobe 2012 – an ensemble

Recap video of the SnowGlobe Music Festival 2012 by Bron Fong.

Songs:

Deadmau5 feat. Chris James – The Veldt

Benny Benassi – Satisfaction (RL Grime Remix)

Laidback Luke ft. Chuckie & Martin Solvig – 1234

Operation Sierra Storm Meteorologist Conference

Chris Field, a 2007 Nobel Prize team winner and lead author of the study on the effects of global climate change, speaks Jan.

10 at the Operation Sierra Storm Meteorologist Conference in Stateline.

SnowGlobe 2012

Gentleman Hall start the fun at SnowGlobe 2012 in South Lake Tahoe on Dec. 29.